CONGRESS MUST CONCUR

This Amendment Was Made a Part o the Convention-Some Discussion Over Making Speeches on the Canal Treaty Public.

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, March 10.-After ratifying the Cuban reciprocity treaty, the Senate adjourned sine die to-day at fifcen minutes past five o'clock. Practically the entire day was spent behind closed doors in executive session. Most of the time was devoted to consideration of the Cuban treaty. Several speeches were made in opposition to the treaty and one in favor of it, and then, promptly at the hour agreed, 3 o'clock, voting began. Roll-calls were had on a number of amendments, and the treaty itself was made the subject of an aye and no vote. The motion to ratify was adopted by a ballot of 50 to 16, somewhat more than a three-fourths vote, whereas only a two-thirds vote was necessary to secure a ratification. The detailed vote follows: teen minutes past five o'clock. Practi-

Kerns and Hale with Gibson; Millard and Proctor with Clark of Arkansas; Scott and Quay with McLaurin; Dillingham and Clap with Tillman; Kittridge and Platt of New York with Patterson; Platt of Connecticut and Sawtey with Teller; Mitchell and Clay with Dubols; Quaries with Culberson.

Mr. Hoar was absent and unpaired.

SET SPEECH.

SET SPEECH.

Immediately after the doors were closed, a few minutes past 11 o'clock, Senator Foster of Louislana took the floor in order to make a set speech in opposition to the treaty. In the main his speech was an appeal for the protection of the American sugar producing industry. He spoke especially for the cane sugar interests of Louislana, but said that while the sugar interest was of paramount importance in his own State on account of the cane produced there, the beet sugar industry had grown to such proportions that many other portions of the Union also were coming to have a pronounced interest in the making of sugar. He drew also were coming to have a pronounced interest in the making of sugar. He drew a graphic picture of present conditions in Louisiana, and said that if the treaty should be ratified the result was Itable to be very disastrous to many of his constituents. He appealed to Senators from North and South alike to refrain from inflicting this hardship upon his people. Mr. Foster also made the point that there was nothing to prevent the introduction was nothing to prevent the introduction of Chinese coolle labor into Cuba, and said that if such labor should be intro-duced American labor could not compec or Chinese coole labor into Cuba, and said that if such labor should be introduced American labor could not compton with it.

PAVORED TREATY.

Other speeches it opposition to the treaty were made by Senators Ferry and Carmack while Senator Sign. ons, or Nortic Carolina, spoke in support of it. Senator Berry based his opposition to the agreement on the amendment offered by the Committee on Foreign Relations, providing against any further reduction by treaty of the duty on sugar while the treaty remains in force. Senator Carmack opposed the treaty on general principles, declaring that it was contrary to our theory of government.

Senator Simmons was the only Democrat who made a speech in advocacy of the ratification of the treaty. He roplied at some length to the speech of Senator Foraker, declaring for the treaty as a means of promoting friendly relations between the United States and Cuba. He said that he spoke for the United States, and not for Cuba, declaring he did not accept the theory that the Winted States and Dove Street, for Easter, exceeding the thought that we had done all for the Cubans that any one nation could be expected to do for another.

But he believed that with the ratification of the irrevocy feeling on the part of the Cubans that any one nation could be expected to do for another.

But he believed that with the ratification of the irrevocy deciling on the part of the Cubans that any one nation could be expected to do for another.

But he believed that with the ratification of the irrevocy feeling on the part of the Cubans towards this country our exportations to Cuba, such more many to the country would be materially enhanced, and that on account of the improved feeling on the part of the Cubans towards this country our sportations to Cuba, which now amount io about 32,00,000 annually, soon would be materially enhanced to accept the theory that he American sugar producing industry would be injured by ndopting the cell of the industry in the Cubans would be sufficient to maintain the industr

VOTING BEGAN. On the conclusion of Mr. Simmons' speech voting began. The Committee on Foreign Relations announced through Senator Cullom, its chairman, the acceptance of two amendements in addition to those already recommended by the com nittee. The first of these was the amend-ment increasing the rate of reduction on mittee. The first of these was the amendment increasing the rate of reduction on Sour, cornmeal and corn imported into Tuba from the United States to thirty per cent. The other amendment adopted by the committee was suggested by Sentior Bacon, and fixed the uniform reduction of thirty per cent, on American cotton goods imported into Cuba.

The only aye and nor vote taken on the committee amendments was on the amendment adopted some time ago by the committee at the instance of the beet sugar Republican Senators, providing against further treaty reduction of the duly on sugar imported into the United States for the next five years, or while the treaty remains in force. A division was called for on this amendment, and it was sustained by a majority of twenty-two votes, the vote being forty-four for the amendment and twenty-two against it, the negative votes being cast by Democrats. The other committee amendments, lacituding hows accepted to-day and the amendment making the approval of the entire committee amendments, including how accepted to-day and the amendment making the approval of the entire committee amendments, lacituding the committee amendments and accepted the Democrats offered a pumber of amendments, but they were all the committee amendments and the pumper of amendments and the pumper of amendments but they were all the pumper of amendments, but they were all the pumper of amendments and they were all the pumper of amendments, but they were all the pumper of amendments, but they were all the pumper of the pumper of the amendments and the pumper of the pumper of the amen veted down by strict party votes. One of these amendments provided for the striking out of article six of the treaty, which makes specific declarations against the granting of any concession to American tobacco imported into Cuba. That article was left just as it was when the treaty was sent to the Benate. The amendment to strike out article six was offered by Senator McDnery, as was also another amendment providing for the admission of American Fice into Cuba free of duty. Senator Foster presented an amendment providing that the treaty shall not go into effect until Cuba should accept the Chinese exclusion laws of the United States, but it, like the McEnery michalment authorising the United States to fessie an invitation to Cuba to enter the Union and become a State thereof, but gave notice that he would renew it when the question of approving the treaty should come up in the next regular session.

The vote was then taken on the motion the question or approving the treaty should come up in the next regular session.

The vote was then taken on the motion to ratify, which was made by Senator Cullom, and the motion prevailed, fifty to sixteen.

The Senate then plunged into a discussion of the question whether the debate on the canal treaty which had taken place after the calling in of the official reporters should be given to the public. The contention was made on the Democratic side that there had been a clear understanding that all the speeches were to be given publicity. Some Republican Senators agreed with this view, but others, including Senators Lodge, Hamna and Fairbanks, declared that there was no unantimous agreement to that effect. Ultimately the difficulty was compromised by a suggestion made by Senator German that all the speeches should be made public, but that none of them should be given out except those of Senators Morgan and Cullom, which already have been published, until after the ratification of the treaty by both the United Sintes and Colombia should be proclaimed. The Senate then adjourned.

isters of the city, however, are beginning to manifest an interest in the farm and it is probable that regular services will be conducted from now on.

Dr. John Moneure, Episcopal city missionary, has recently paid several wisits to the place. On two of these visits he held nine services, some in the public dining hall and some in the hospital wards. He also distributed papers and Bibles and portions of the Scripture among the prisoners, every one being supplied with some religious literature. Very much appreciation was shown by both officials and prisoners, and, although not within the bounds of his Richmond work. Dr. Moneure will pursue his efforts in this direction.

The Baptist ministers are also beginning to look in the direction of the State Farm. At the instance of Mr. T. H. Ellett, a prominent layman, they have agreed to conduct services there during the coming month.

The corpse of this body, years ago, was galvanized at a meeting of representative citizens of Virginia. held at the Chamber of Commerce Wednosday at noon. Delegates from various sections of the State were present, eleven cities in all being represented. The chief accomplishment Wednesday was the drafting of a constitution and by-laws, which are to be submitted to the various chambers of commerce for ratification. The following gentlemen, representing the business organizations of their communities, were present: Richmond—J. C. Freeman, E. A. Goodman, R. M. Smith, L. C. Younger, Thomas Armistead Ellington. ### At the Theatres.

The return of the Frawcett Company to the Bijou is a welcome event. Old favorites were warmly greeted, and "Camille" has settled down to a prosperous run, It was presented to two large audiences yesterday and received with marked enthusiasing terday and received with marked enthuslasm.

While it may be said of Miss Kimball's performance of the Anglicked Marguerite Gauther that it lacks some of the significant details with which some famous representatives of the part have embellished the earlier scenes, there can be no question that in point of electric power it remains eloquent. Most Camilles are overshadowed by the Armand; not so hers. The spectator cannot help fixing his attention upon that pale face, over which one emotion chases another as swift and changing as the winds.

Mr. Gillmore made an excellent Armand.

Mr. Jennings made a fine impression as the Count, and Miss La Verne realized the possibilities of Frudence.

At the Academy last night the entertininment given by the "Lady Minstrels," under the direction of Mr. Meiville Daniels and Mr. Moses Stein, was an unqualified success. Expectations were more than fulfilled, and the performance was inmensely creditable to all concerned. The house was well filled and the audience most appreciative. The singing in the first part was especially good, and the end men were particularly happy in their gags and wittlelsms. Many of the jokes were of native growth and were new and topical. Some rattling specialities followed, and the evening was rounded out with a clever farcical sketch.

The entertainment was given for the

The Fawcett Company will continue to hold the boards of the Billou next week in "Siberla," a play that has never been seen in this section of the country. It is an intense melodrama, and should serve to crowd the house all next week. Seats are now on sale.

The Academy will have two very strong attractions next week. On Tuesday Andrew Robson, who made such a favorable impression here last season, will be seen the strong and night performances of impression nore last season, who seeds at matinee and night performances of "Richard Carvel." On Friday and Saturday the Bostonians will appear here in two magnificent operatic productions. "Robin Hood" is to be the bill on Friday night and Saturday matinee, and on Saturday night the new opera, "Maid Marian," will be the offering.

The spring and summer season will open at the Academy Monday, March 30th, The Academy Musical Comedy Company will be the attraction in "The Lady Slavey." The company, which is under the management of Mr. R. L. Giffen, is the largest and strongest organization of the kind ever seen here.

On the 5th instant your honorable body, passed and had referred to your Committee on Public Institutions and Education the following resolution:

"Resolved, That the Committee on "Resolved, That the Committee on Public Institutions and Education be, and the same is hereby, instructed to proceed at once to make a full and thorough investigation into the charges made against the Central State Hospital, the officers and management by Dr. R. thorough and searching examination into all the charges preferred, your committee begs leave to submit the following report:

FIRST CHARGE.

First, The charge that $20,000 appropriated by the State was diverted at one time from the purposes for which it was appropriated is not sustained.

This money was appropriated by the State for general purposes, and was by order of the Executive Board properly used for the erection of necessary building for the accommodation of the Inmates of hospitals, The action of the board was duly reported to and approved by the General Assembly, and no blame attaches to the officers of the Institution for the necessary expenditure, but on the contrary, the action in this respect is commended, especially as it appears from the evidence that the patients in nowise were deprived of the support necessary for their health and comfort.

Second. That the superintendents of the hospitals of the State were absolute and autocratic in their authority in their conduct towards the officers and employes. This charge, so far as applies to the Central State Hospital, is absolutely without foundation.

The officers and employes testified that the superintendent was a strict disciplinarian, but always kind and courteous in his manner of dealing with all connected with the institution.

Third, The charge of the immoral conduct of one of the officers towards an employe is not sustained.

The evidence disclosed the fact that the charge when brought to their attention and dismissed the same as unworthy of serious consideration, and upon further examination by your committee and the Board of Directors had fully investigated the charge when brought to their attention and dismissed the same as unworthy of serious consideration, and upon further examination by your committee and the Board of Directors is approved.

Fifth. The charge that the employe of the hospital; that she made complaint to the superintendent who brought to their attention of the board, Upon hearing the evidence the board ordered the dismis the board, upon investigation, is approved. Sixth. The evidence adduced before your committee shows that the patients are properly clothed and fed, and that everything necessary for their health and comfort is amply provided for.

Your committee deems it proper to add that it appears from the evidence that Dr. Drewry, the superintendent, and Mr. Julius Straus, the chairman of the Executive Board, together with assistants and employees, have administered the business and financial affairs of the Contraction of the highest commendation.

Your committee herewith returns as a part of this report the letters of Dr. Styll and Randolph Roese, containing specification of charges, together with the depositions of witnesses who tostified upon the investigation herein referred to.

RAISE THE DEBT Strong Effort Being Made by Congre-

A strong effort is being made by the easter and congregation of the Broadus pastor and congregation of the Broadus-Memorial Bantist Church to raise the debt on the new church building. The Rev. Mr. Stealey recently sent out invitations to sixty men in the congrega-tion, and forty-five of them met him in the lecture-room of the church. The evening was spent discussing plans, parti-cularly the debt matter. It was found that about $2,700 will have to be met this year. A subscription was started and that about $2,700 will have to be met this year. A subscription was started and ran up to something over $1,500, counting the unpaid pledges of last year that are considered good and a couple of subscriptions from outside sources.
